SAS Signature Courses

SAS Signature Courses should be signature events on campus, ideally accompanied by attractive public programs connecting classroom experience and student life for SAS students. Since there are frequently important intellectual connections among the Signature courses offered each year, we also encourage joint co-curricular or special events. All of this works together to teach students, through experience, that learning is not bounded by the formal structure of individual courses.

Below are some of the offices and individuals Signature Course faculty might turn to in offering co-curricular and public events. The SAS Writing Program is also eager to build partnerships with faculty to develop course designs that will allow students to achieve Core Curriculum Writing and Communication goals as part of their Signature Course experience: contact Director Professor Kurt Spellmeyer, kurt.spellmeyer@rutgers.edu.
